Fortune Block

The History

The Fortune Block was a mixed-use building with four retail stores on the main floor and offices above.

Winnipeg real estate developer Mark Fortune financed the construction of the Fortune Block. Construction began in 1882 but by the time it opened in January 1883, he had already sold it to local businessman Alexander "Sandy" Macdonald. MacDonald had the near twin Macdonald Block constructed immediately to the south, from which he ran his wholesale grocery business. He left the neighboring Fortune Block intact, even retaining its original name.
